ASK ABOUT THIS WORK

Barcelona city

This work is inspired by the city of Barcelona. In it, I portray a crowd of very diverse individuals, much like the city itself: people from here and from different parts of the world, each with their own identity, story, and way of expressing themselves. For me, the most important aspect is that, despite all these differences, they all coexist within the same space and present themselves as sincerely as possible, without hiding who they are.
